Used static caravans for self build projects

Ian James Caravans supply caravans for use as either temporary accommodation or welfare facilities. Living on-site whilst building or renovating your house has great advantages such as reduced accommodation costs, providing your own on site security, saving on traveling time, taking deliveries out of normal hours and being able to keep a close eye on progress. Self build temporary accommodation static caravans make sense practically and economically.

We can help you choose the right used static caravan for your requirements, making absolutely sure that your temporary living experience is as comfortable as possible. We always have a wide range of sizes, ages and models to suit all budgets and requirements available to view on our showground in Somerset. Prices for caravans start at £995 and sizes range from 26ft to 40ft long by either 10ft or 12ft wide.
